

Subject: Is Your Next Adventure Waiting In Your Workplace...?

Hi [FIRST NAME],

What does adventure mean to you? In life, you may find yourself longing for a new and exciting journey.

Perhaps you've driven to work every day since you were 22. You want to break free from familiarity...Yet as reality set in and bills had to be paid, you became stuck in working the same old routine.

You go to the office, do your job, come home to your family. Maybe you never think about that crossroads between fun and play...

What if we told you that you could now enjoy both?

That you could go to work and see everything in a completely different way?

Watching as your children's faces light up with joy...all within metres from your workplace?

Finding that fun place doesn't have to be difficult. This is where a land train could help to bridge the gap for you between work and play...

What's a land train, we hear you ask?

Well, a land train can be the main attraction that really adds the 'wow factor' to your business venue or special event.

We call our green land train 'Little Connie' and she's ready to transport all your clients or special visitors to and from their destination.

With wet weather curtains to protect travellers come rain or shine, everyone is ensured of a safe and pleasant journey.

She can help all of your VIP guests to experience your workplace or business venue in a new and exciting way. Taking in your surroundings at only 10mph can even give you the time to come up with new and adventurous business ideas...

What's more, if you have a business message you want to share with your visitors or local community, we've reserved a special space on our advertising boards just for you.

Your message on the side of our land train can leave an instant impression on your target audience.
